A little bit more....

A new school year began.

Goodmorning Class! Your next task will be done in groups of five.

Can I do it individually?

No. You need to work with a group.

She approaches the instructor.

Sees ELLARA .....

WALKING TOWARDS ELLARA

Awkwardly waves at Ellara....

Do you have a group?

no..

Perfect! then You can join ours! We need one more

Ellara hesitates.

.....Okay.

Hi...

I don't know what to say...

Guys, this is Ellara. She'll be joining our group.

Hi, Ellara!

Don't worry, we're friendly.

They began working together

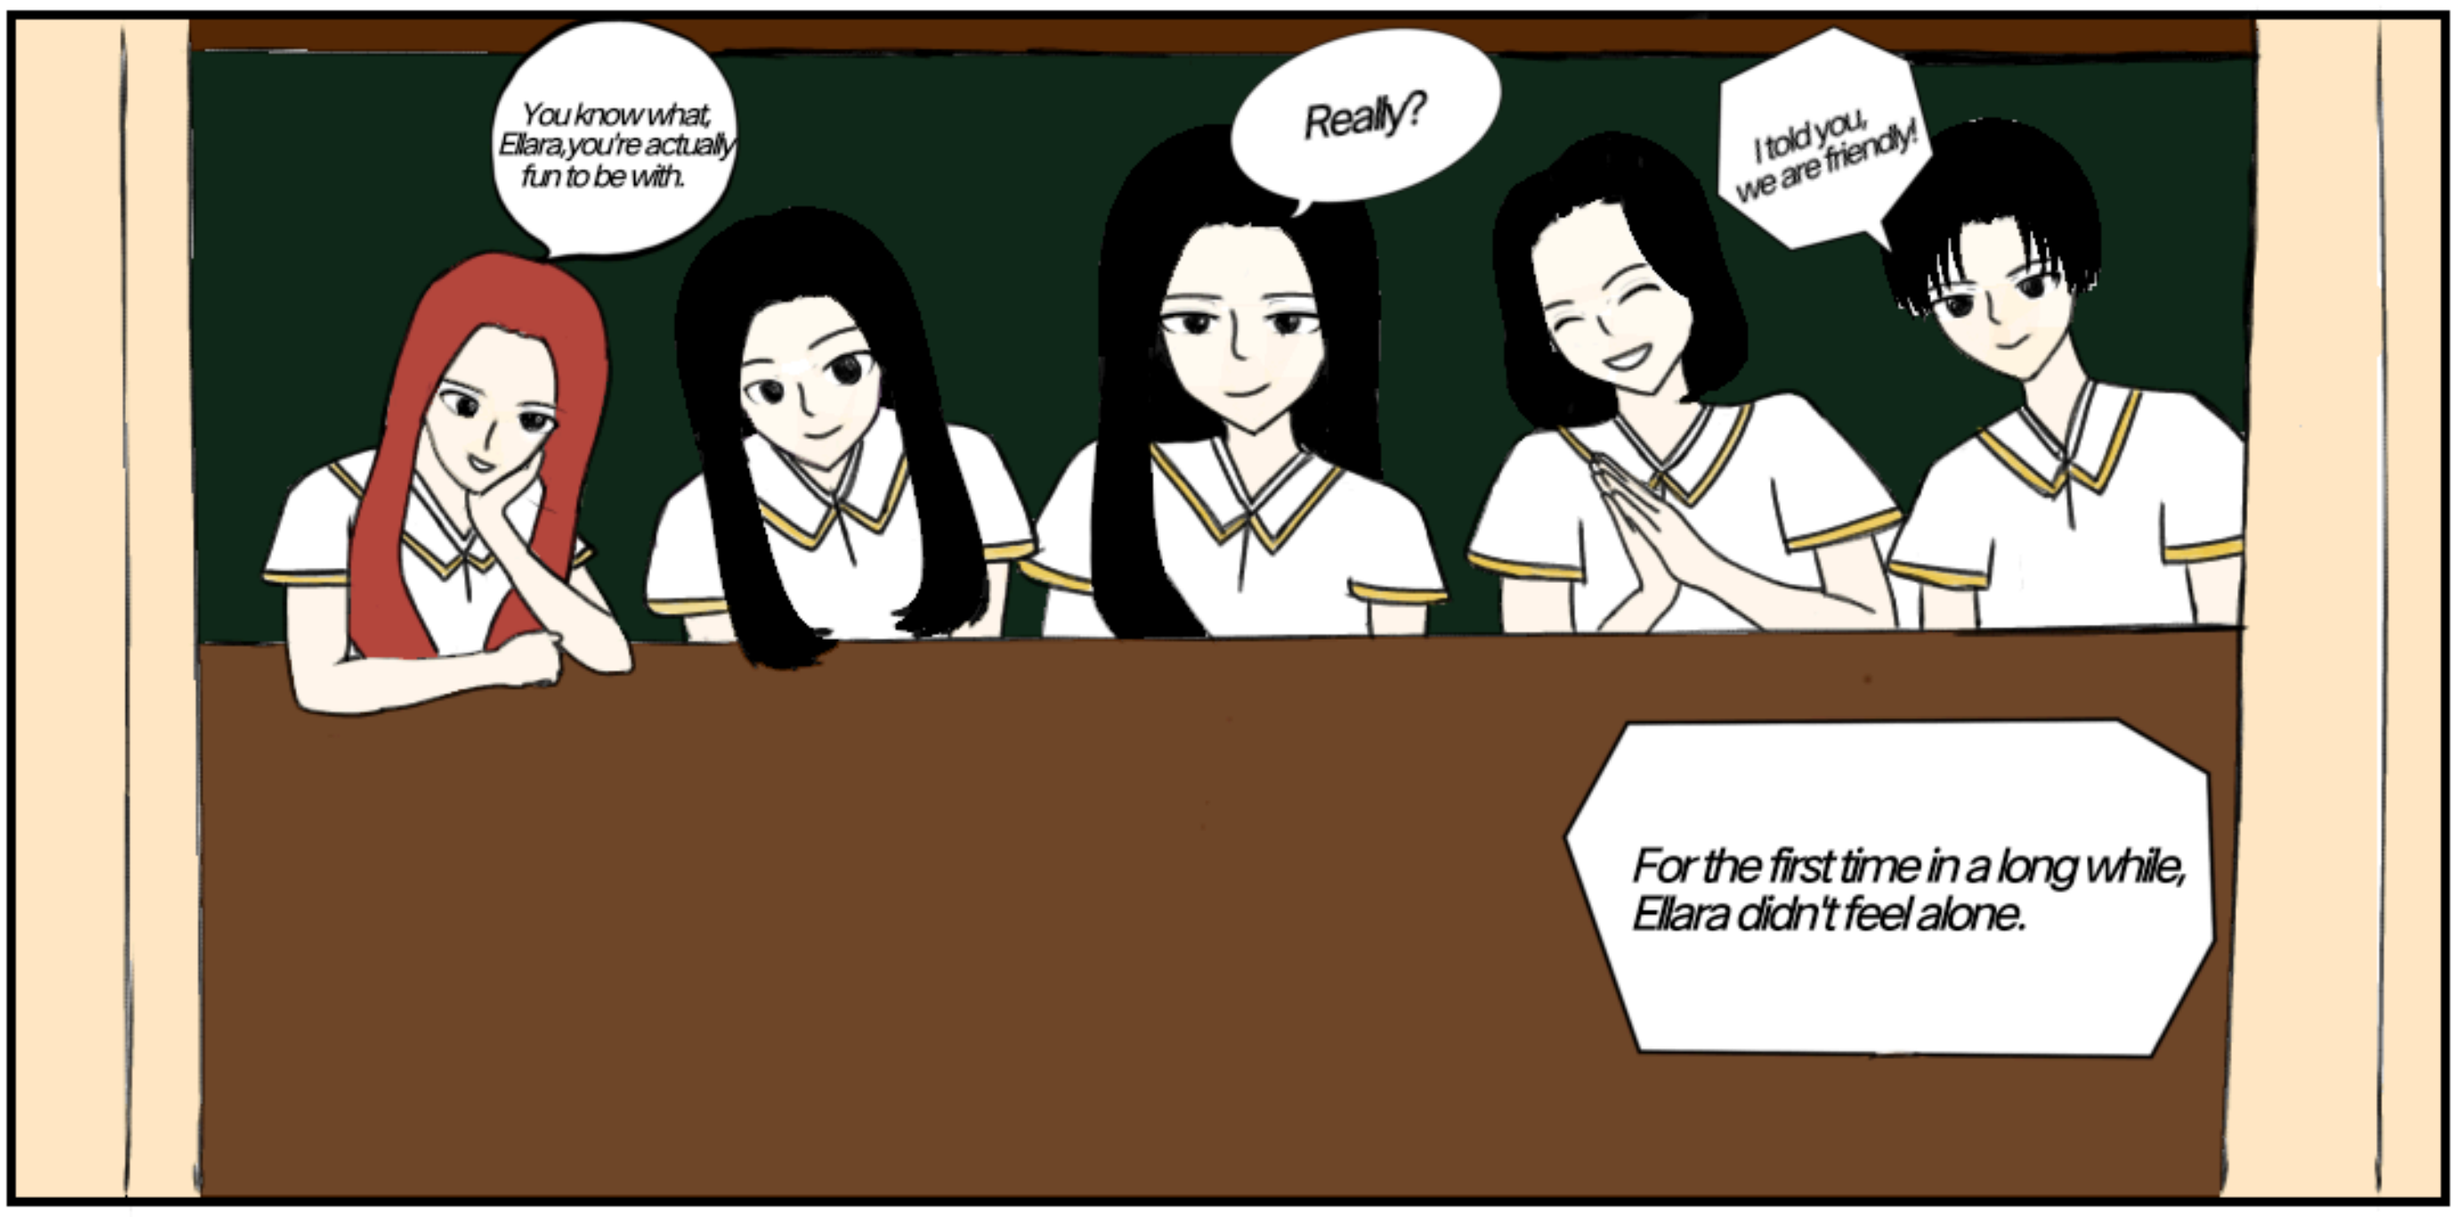

Maybe we can divide our task first.

You're really good at this, Ellara.

I can work with this

Thanks

Ellara, what do you think about this?
I think we should change this part.
Yeah, that's better.

You know what, Ellara, you're actually fun to be with.
Really?
I told you, we are friendly!
For the first time in a long while, Ellara didn't feel alone.

See you tomorrow, Ellara!
See you.

You're pretty quiet, Ellara. Are you okay?

I'm just not used to talking to people

Well, you're part of the group now, so you'll have to get used to us.

I'll try...

Maybe having friends isn't so bad

Slowly, these small moments became a part of her everyday life.

Don't be shy! Eat more!

You like ramen right? this place is really good.

You're eating so small, Ellara. Haha

They talked between classes, walk next to their subject together, and shared little things...

Little by little, Ellara began to enjoy having people around her.

You're coming with us tomorrow right?

Yeah.

ACADEMIC RANKINGS

1. Yuna..... 98
2. Ellara..... 97

A few weeks passed, and a new rankings were finally posted

I got number one!

Yeah... that's amazing... congrats!

What am I gonna tell my parents?

How am I going to tell them?

So, how did you rank this time?

I'm..... second.

Second? Why weren't you number one?"

Back at school, Ellara worked with her friends again.

Ellara, what do you think about this?

It's fine. Just continue.

chatter...

I can't. I have to study

We're going to eat together after class. Wanna come?

Again?

She turned them down, again and again.

I have to get back to number one

Afraid of falling behind again, Ellara began putting distance between herself and her friends.

Ellara, you've been really quite lately.

I'm just busy.

Ellara was no longer as talkative as before.

Is something wrong with Ellara?

chatter...

I'm not sure. She's been avoiding us.

The more they tried to reach her, the farther away she seemed.

I don't have time for this.

Ellara, can we talk for a minute?

No. Why would you think that?

About what?

Did we do something wrong?

Worried

Ellara turns away, ending the conversation.

Ellara, we're just worried about you...

You don't have to deal with everything alone.

OVERWHELMED

You wouldn't understand!

Ellara Says hurtful words.....

Then tell us what's wrong.

Ellara clenches her fists. She's struggling to keep her frustration inside.

"I don't need you! Just leave me alone!"

In her fear and frustration, Ellara hurt the very people who wanted to help..

For a moment, no one said a word.

....Okay

Come on, Yuna.

yeah....

footsteps...

Why did I say that....?

For the first time, Ellara realized that her words had gone too far.

At home

I know..

...yes

You got second place again?

You have to work harder next time.

I won't.

Don't stay up too late.

That night, Ellara pushed herself even harder.

I have to get back to number one

But the harder she tried, the heavier the pressure felt.

yeah

Ellara... can we talk?

About yesterday?

When I became second. I felt like I wasn't good enough.

My parents expect me to always be number one.

Yeah.

I just want to understand what you're going through.

You really want to know?

For the first time. Ellara finally said what she had been keeping to herself.

Yuna listened patiently as Ellara shared her fears.

You don't have to prove yourself to everyone, Ellara.

But I can't disappoint my parents...

You don't have to face everything alone.

...I'm just scared of letting them down.

Little by little, the distance between them began to fade.

We're here for you, Ellara.

I'm sorry for pushing you away.

It's okay. Just don't shut us out again.

After their conversation, Ellara slowly began to open up to her friends again.

Sure!

Ellara, can you check this part?

I think we're almost done!

For once, Ellara allowed herself to enjoy the moment instead of worrying about being the best.

Yeah... I guess you're right.

See? It's better when we work together.

Maybe I don't have to do everything by myself.

Ellara learned that being strong doesn't mean carrying everything alone.
